CANADIAN GOLFER DEFEATS GOODMAN

BALTIMORE COUNTRY CLUB, Md., Sept. 17.—(UP)—Ross Somerville, silent insurance salesman from London, Ont., won the United States amateur golf championship today when he defeated Johnny Goodman, Omaha, Neb., youngster, 1 and 1, in the 36 hole final round match.

Somerville's victory marked the second time in history that the title has left this country. Harold Hilton, the Liverpool master, won the crown in 1911. Somerville, who is 23, had won the Canadian title four times and for several years had been an outstanding contender for the U. S. event. But not until this year had he succeeded in getting near the finals.

STANFORD'S FROSH Beat Fresno, 34-0

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Sept. 17.—(UP)—The Stanford Frosh steamrollered themselves to a 34 to 7 victory over Fresno State here today in a game preliminary to the Stanford varsity Olympic Club clash.

FOREST FIRE STILL BLAZING THIS NOON

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The Santa Barbara National forest fire was partially controlled today on its north front in the Pine mountain-Reyes peak section, but was still out of control on the western and eastern edges of the northern front.

On the west edge it swept down Agua Caliente canyon and was eating into the far corner of the Gibraltar watershed which stores water for Santa Barbara.

This uncontrolled section included a sweep from Potrero Sacco to Adobe Springs on the east, and it was burning at will along the Topa Topa range, far north of Santa Paula.

No towns were endangered. The fire is in its eleventh day, and has burned over approximately 125,000 acres of land.

Committee investigators have been engaged all summer in several cities. Officials refuse to identify the centers in which inquiries are under way but they are understood to include Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis and San Francisco.

Through James Stewart, a director of investigation, the inquiry into records of stock market transactions, pools and alleged stock operations is continuing. Stewart told the United Press that the committee had not requested stock exchange authorities to issue yesterday's call for all communications passing through member's offices touching upon political subjects.

The call was for communications between Sept. 1 and 15, a period including the time of the Maine elections. News of Democratic victories in Maine was accompanied in New York by a break in market values.

The market slump on the day after President Hoover's acceptance speech last month also was a center of capital interest. Some friends of Mr. Hoover complained privately that the circumstances warranted suspicion and perhaps investigation to determine if there was a political motive behind operations which caused the break.

BROOKHART TAKES LEAD IN INQUIRY

Political Writer Charges Market Profits to Go Into Republican Fund

QUICK ACTION ASKED
Nebraska Solon Would Hold Investigation Before Election in November

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Senator Brookhart, Rep., Ia., told the United Press today that he was seeking a senate investigation before the election of alleged political manipulation of the stock market.

Brookhart wants an investigation by the banking and currency committee which conducted last season's bear raid inquiry in which John J. Raskob, Percy A. Rockefeller and others testified.

Brookhart is a member of the committee.

Senator Fletcher, Dem., Fla., another member, told the United Press that if reports of political manipulation were substantiated they would warrant investigation.

Fletcher referred to a recent article by Louis Seibold, New York political writer, in which it was asserted that professional operators would contribute heavily to Republican campaign funds from the proceeds of manipulation.

Brookhart wrote Seibold for substantiating evidence and endeavored to interest in the investigation two of the three senators who were given authority to act for the banking and currency committee through the summer.

The senators are Norbeck, Rep., N. D., Glass, Dem., Va., and Townsend, Rep., Del. Glass has been ill and so far the subcommittee has taken no action.

The United Press understands that committee sentiment generally is to delay all further hearings until after the election when the market investigation is scheduled for resumption regardless of alleged political manipulation.

Through James Stewart, a director of investigation, the inquiry into records of stock market transactions, pools and alleged stock operations is continuing. Stewart told the United Press that the committee had not requested stock exchange authorities to issue yesterday's call for all communications passing through member's offices touching upon political subjects.

CITRUS GROWERS OF COUNTY IN FAVOR OF CONTROL PLAN

BORAH SILENT OVER SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT

Republican Party Managers Badly in Need of Idaho Senator's Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Republican party managers have turned their eyes toward Idaho where Sen. William E. Borah is biding his time.

His endorsement of President Hoover, party managers believe, would do much to rally the party in the face of the Democratic victory in Maine.

An effort to "smoke" Borah out appears to have been started. After a conference at the White House, Senator Hastings, Rep., Del., said Borah's declaration against the soldier bonus following the action of the American Legion this week had definitely put him on the Republican side.

"He is in at the back door," said Senator Hastings, "but that's better than not at all."

Borah, asked by the United Press to comment on Hastings' statement, made light of the announcement.

"I know Senator Hastings had many accomplishments. But I didn't know he was a humorist," he telegraphed.

He has said nothing about his attitude toward the administration since his speech in the senate after the Republican national convention when he declared he could not support Mr. Hoover on the Chicago platform.

Since then he has said that the west was any man's fight and that October was early enough to talk politics.

The lone senator from the big potato country stands with relation to the Hoover campaign in much the same position that former Governor Alfred E. Smith stands toward the Roosevelt campaign. Each is silent. Each is regarded as able to influence a large number of voters.

With Governor Roosevelt swinging through the west, the Republican management longs for some mighty voice there. It wants some one to offset the pro-Roosevelt utterances of Senator George W. Norris, Republican, Nebraska.

Overtures have been made to Borah. He has refused to state his intentions. So the campaign to wear him down and bring him in to line continues.

Throws Hat In Ring And It Stays There

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 17.—(UP)—When District Attorney Glenn M. Devore tossed his hat into the political ring, he didn't get it back.

The hat, described by the storekeeper who sold it as "a nifty gray fedora," disappeared at Sacramento, where the district attorney and Congressman Henry E. Barbour "gambled" for the Republican nomination from the ninth district.

The district attorney's hat was pressed into service when he and Barbour appeared before Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan to decide the nomination by drawing a name from a hat it disappeared, Devore said, shortly after Congressman Barbour won the nomination.

TRIBUTE PAID TO HOOVER IN CURTIS SPEECH

Leadership of President is Lauded; Farm Relief Record Defended

ROSELAND, Pa., Sept. 17.—(UP)—Vice President Curtis, in his first eastern speech of the campaign, acclaimed President Hoover's leadership as turning the business tide, and defended the Republican farm relief record against the attack of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Tariff equality of agriculture with industry, as urged by the Democratic presidential nominee in his Topeka, Kan., speech, has been approached under Republican sponsorship, Curtis said. He contrasted the duties on agricultural products under the Underwood-Simmons tariff act of the Wilson administration, and the Fordney-McCumber and Smoot-Hawley tariffs of the past 12 years of Republican rule.

On the basis of party records, Curtis said the Republican party "is most likely to solve the farm problem fairly and justly."

"I have not commented upon Governor Roosevelt's farm relief plan," continued the vice president, "because he has submitted none—he refers to several plans that have been discussed for years and then leaves them for discussion."

Discussing the depression at the close of his speech he said that but for administration leadership "a financial panic might easily have resulted" from the effects of gold withdrawals from the country last spring.

Curtis said he was still of the opinion that nationally organized farm co-operatives "would help solve the farm problem."

"I still believe such a system properly organized and conducted would enable the farmer to get a better price for his products and at the same time do no injury to those who trade honestly in the buying and selling of farm products," he said, in defending the basic purpose of the co-operative movement.

The frail little woman, who weighs less than 100 pounds, has lapsed into a coma, and physicians could not say how long she will live. Her condition was extremely grave.

PARAGUAY WILLING TO END FIRING

Truce Between Warring Nations Nearer Today as Commission Gets Busy

TO RECALL TROOPS
Effective Demobilization is Urged by Paraguay in Message to America

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(UP)—A truce between warring Bolivia and Paraguay appeared nearer today than at any time during the recent weeks of bloody fighting in the disputed Gran Chaco territory.

The commission of neutrals composed of diplomatic representatives here of the United States, Colombia, Cuba, Mexico and Uruguay who have labored to bring about a cessation of hostilities were heartened by the receipt here of conciliatory notes from both belligerent governments.

The neutrals had asked the two governments to agree to an immediate suspension of hostilities and withdrawal of troops in the Chaco to create a neutral zone 20 kilometers wide.

Bolivia replied the 20 kilometer zone was impractical for geographical reasons but expressed a willingness to suspend hostilities and if necessary give guarantees. The neutrals communicated Bolivia's answer to Paraguay. Later the Bolivian delegates Enrique Finot and Eduardo Diez de Medina called upon Assistant Secretary of State Francis White, chairman of the commission of neutrals and advised him Bolivia desired an immediate suspension of hostilities in line with her written communication. This was communicated immediately to Paraguay in a second note. Later the Paraguayan government replying to the first proposal

MANCHUKUO TO CELEBRATE ITS INDEPENDENCE

First Anniversary Will Be Observed Sunday; Programs Are Planned

TOKIO, Sept. 17.—(UP)—The new republic of Manchukuo—to Japanese formerly the three eastern provinces of China and still the three eastern provinces so far as Chinese are concerned—will celebrate its first "independence day" tomorrow.

Despite the fact the independent republic of Manchukuo was not proclaimed until last February 18, the government of Hsinking (Changchun) headed by Henry Pu-yi, former "boy emperor of China," evidently dates its birth from September 18. It was on this date last year when Japan's armies began their advance which ended in breaking Chinese power over Manchuria.

Tomorrow's celebration will be known officially

M. O. D. Manager Submits Alternate Prorata Plan

POSITION OF ORGANIZATION IS REVEALED

As an alternate plan to the revised prorata agreement for shipment of valencia oranges in an effort to increase returns to growers which has been drawn up and which has been signed by nearly every marketing organization with the exception of the Mutual Orange Distributors, C. P. Barley, general manager of the M. O. D., presented a new scheme in an address made before approximately 450 Orange county citrus growers in the Washington school in Garden Grove last night.

Previous to the general meeting, the plan was discussed by members of the board of directors of the Garden Grove M. O. D. house. Following is the complete plan as addressed as given by Barley last night:

"The Mutual Orange Distributors has submitted to its members the question of whether or not the abandoned prorata agreement should be renewed. The results of this referendum will be acted on by the board of directors of the organization in the near future.

Tells Objections
"In our judgment the abandoned agreement is not equitable in operation or beneficial to the individual growers of California; it does not solve the paramount problem of the disposal of low-grade fruit, but instead actually prorates and encourages the sale of a class of fruit which for the best interests of the individual growers should not be sold, thus lowering the price level for good fruit to that of low-grade fruit."

"Under the plan good fruit, for which there is a market, would not be sold while at the same time low-grade would be prorated and sold with the result that the grower is penalized because the good fruit which is sold has to meet the competition of the low-grade fruit and the grower also loses the total value of the good fruit which is not shipped; and the abandoned plan is destructive to cooperative principles because as was proved during its operation for four weeks, it tends to undermine the stability and efficiency of established cooperative selling groups by forcing more growers to sell for cash. This latter condition is particularly dangerous to the welfare of the citrus industry."

Alternate Plan
"In lieu of the abandoned prorata agreement, the Mutual Orange Distributors recommends as an immediate and temporary measure the resumption at once of conferences of the sales heads of the various shippers to regulate directly the movement of fruit into the markets. Such conferences were held prior to 1927 but were discontinued by withdrawal therefrom of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. The Mutual Orange Distributors has been and now is ready to be a party to such conferences. Such conferences could be in action within 24 hours."

"At the meetings held in Santa Ana twice we requested to have the suggestions hereafter set forth made available to the individual growers for their consideration. Both of those requests were refused, hence it is that we are particularly appreciative of this opportunity to present them directly to you because we believe that they will aid greatly in making possible the solution of some of the most vexatious problems of the citrus industry."

"The Mutual Orange Distributors feels that the following basic principles should be recognized if the industry is to handle its problems in a sound and constructive way:

States Principles
"1. That the welfare of the individual growers is paramount and any plan affecting the growers' fruit must be designed solely for the purpose of benefitting the individual growers of California;

"2. That the plan first must be actually approved by the individual citrus growers who own or control the acreage which on the average each year produces an adequate control volume of our total yearly crop. Previous plans worked on have placed this volume at 90 per cent;

"3. That all shipping groups should utilize their man-power and resources constructively to build their selling efficiency, and to create new market outlets;

"4. That before it is possible for any groups to gather at a table and settle common problems such as the matter of coordinated handling of any of our fruit there must be a common ground on which all can meet. One of the first essentials is that each party must be willing to subscribe to the doctrine of live and let live. We believe it is impossible for two or more groups to unite on a beneficial program when any one group sponsors the idea that all other groups should be destroyed or their membership weakened."

"No plan can be a panacea for all ills."

"On the other hand, we are convinced that a plan based on the above principles and which is first approved by the individual growers is the only one which actually can bring lasting and beneficial results."

Details of Plan
"At this time, therefore, the Mutual Orange Distributors submits to you (subject, of course, to revision of minor details as may be found necessary) the following simple and practical plan which sets forth a definite relationship between the individual growers and their respective packing groups, and in turn between the packing groups and an unbiased unit called the neutral unit."

"The grower and the packing house—The arrangement between the individual grower and his packing house would grant to the packing unit the right to say when and in what amount the grower's fruit would be picked, and the right to cut out fruit which by the Neutral Unit is declared unfit to be marketed. This arrangement, in our judgment, should permit the grower to withdraw therefrom at a stipulated time each year after the first year."

"The packing house and the neutral unit—The arrangement between each packing unit and the neutral unit would provide that the packing unit and the growers served by it would abide by the decisions of the neutral unit. Each party should be able to withdraw after the first year at an agreed time in each year."

Neutral Unit Powers
"The Neutral Unit—The Neutral Unit, we believe, should have the power to perform only the following specific acts:

"1. From time to time to determine what portion, if any, of our crop should be declared unfit for market and to declare the same to be unfit for market, and, if necessary, to specify the particular kind of fruit to be culled; provided, that in so doing the low-grade fruit shall be so designated; and

"2. To specify, if deemed advisable, the time when fruit declared unfit for market shall be culled out and not offered for sale. Provided, that no decision of said Neutral Unit shall place an unequal burden on any packing unit or growers. It will be noted that any fruit to be culled is to be culled out by the packing unit. The individual growers who compose each packing unit thus will be directly in touch with all handling of their own fruit. Naturally, they will see that the low grades are culled out."

Neutral Unit—Its Composition
The Neutral Unit naturally should consist of those persons who are experts in the business. For that reason we would recommend that it consist of one representative (preferably the sales expert) of each shipping organization whose packing groups have entered into contracts with the Neutral Unit. Each representative should, we feel, have one (1) vote and no more since the questions to be passed on are of general interest to the entire industry and should not be limited by the restricted viewpoint of any selling group, or groups."

Grower Approval
"It is further recommended that the plan shall become effective only when individual growers who control the acreage which annually produces a sufficient volume control are parties to the contract. Previous plans have worked on a 90 per cent basis."

"To avoid misunderstanding, it is suggested that the following definitions be adopted:

"Cull: shall mean to withhold from all channels of trade and sale, including diversion to by-products where the by-products compete at any time directly or indirectly with our fresh citrus fruits;

"Unfit to be marketed: shall mean all citrus fruits not complying with the standardization laws of California and all citrus fruits which if sold will be reducing the general purchasing power of California citrus fruits lower the total income of the industry."

"This plan, we believe, is built 'from the bottom up' rather than 'from the top down.' Only by such a plan, we believe, are we going to be able to stop the sale of low grade fruit which destroys the market for our advertised quality fruit."

"It is unfortunate that some proponents of the abandoned prorata agreement have seen fit through the press and otherwise to spread propaganda apparently designed to force adoption of the abandoned agreement."

"The effect of these unwise tactics has been to create the impression that California has a large unmarketable surplus of citrus fruits which no doubt ultimately will depress markets, and to create prejudice which should not exist."

"This is no time for subterfuge or to play politics in behalf of any selling group. On the contrary, the interests of the individual growers of California are at stake and we shall continue to insist that those rights shall be protected and that the growers shall be permitted to express their opinion about any plan affecting the culling out of their fruit before any such plan goes into operation."

PROVISIONS OF PRORATA AGREEMENT

For the first time, the complete revised valencia orange marketing agreement for prorata of fruit shipments from California, is published below. The revised agreement was prepared by representatives of the California marketing organizations in the office of the Orange County Farm Bureau on August 29.

"This agreement entered into by and between the undersigned citrus marketing organizations on the date and place set opposite their names, agree with each other and collectively that they will provide their shipments of valencia oranges to continental United States and Canada during the 1932 valencia shipping season, under the following conditions, to-wit:

"First: That there be set up a joint citrus distribution committee composed of not more than 10 members, four of which shall be appointed by the California Fruit Growers Exchange, two by the Mutual Orange Distributors, and one each by each independent shipper signing this agreement; but limited to a total of four representatives to all independent shippers; however, no organization, at any time, to have a standing majority on the committee."

"Decisions of this committee shall be determined by a majority vote, providing it is composed of representatives of at least two parties to this agreement. In case this committee is unable to reach a decision, the question shall be referred to a Growers' committee, provided for in paragraph five."

Meet Weekly
"Second: This Joint Citrus Distribution committee shall meet each week, at a time and place determined by itself, and at such meeting or meetings shall determine the total quantity of valencia oranges that shall be shipped or moved into channels of trade during the next succeeding week."

"Third: The Joint Citrus Distribution committee shall then prorata between parties to this agreement the total amount of valencia oranges to be marketed in each given week in proportion to each party's control of the aggregate volume of valencia oranges controlled by parties to the agreement, as determined by the Joint Growers' committee, herein provided for."

"Fourth: That each party to this agreement shall have the right to withdraw herefrom by giving written notice to the secretary of the Growers' committee. Such withdrawal shall not become effective for two full shipping weeks following the shipping week in which the withdrawal notice was received. During the notice period each party hereto agrees to abide by the shipping quota and general rules adopted governing this distribution agreement."

Growers' Powers
"Fifth: A Joint Growers' committee shall be set up in addition to the Joint Citrus Distribution Committee above outlined in paragraph one (1), which shall not exceed 15 members, selected as follows: California Fruit Growers' Exchange, four; Mutual Orange Distributors, four; and one member from each additional signer hereto. This committee shall have power to fix rules, regulations, and determine all matters of policy; and decide all questions of shipments and prorates upon which the Distribution committee cannot reach agreement."

"Sixth: Each party to the agreement shall sell its own fruit, retain the right to determine policies governing its own operations under the rules of this agreement, and assume the responsibility of enforcing within its own organization the prorata as determined by the Joint Citrus Distribution committee, and the rules and regulations as established by the Joint Growers' committee."

"Seventh: Each party to this agreement agrees to dispose of all fruit, not permitted to go to regular channels of trade, in such manner as to eliminate it from competition with fruit marketed under the regular prorata."

"Eighth: This agreement shall become effective when marketing organizations that controlled 90 per cent of the total carload shipments of California valencia oranges for the 1931 season shall have become parties to this agreement."

Revised Rules
I. Meetings of the Distribution committee shall be of an executive nature, or closed sessions, but be open to regular members of the Growers' committee when they desire to attend."

II. Prorates shall be established on the basis of the amount of marketable valencia oranges yet to be shipped as of September 1, 1932, determined on the basis of 462 boxes to the car. Marketable fruit for the purposes of this agreement shall be considered to be fruit marketable under the state and federal marketing standards and regulations. The prorata to this agreement, shall be determined by the Growers' committee, on the basis that its volume bears to the total volume yet to be shipped as of September 1, 1932."

III. The Valencia Distribution committee shall meet each week and determine the total volume of fruit to be moved the succeeding week. This volume shall be divided into a packed fruit prorata and a loose fruit prorata and each organization assigned its percentage of each, and be notified thereof by the secretary."

IV. Any organization, party to this agreement, overshipping or exceeding its prorata for any given week shall have such overshipment deducted before its next week's prorata is set."

V. Each organization shall make a signed statement of all loose and packed fruit moved into channels of trade by it during the last preceding week which shall be kept by the secretary as part of the records of this prorata agreement."

VI. For purposes of this agreement a car of fruit shall be 462 boxes of packed fruit (a packed box shall be considered to be any package or box of fruit which has a lid attached thereto). Loose fruit shall be converted to a packed fruit basis, considering 70 pounds net of loose fruit as the equivalent of one box of packed fruit."

financing policy of the federal farm board.

Governor Roosevelt's statement that "the Fordney-McCumber tariff barrier shut off the normal tide of trade," Curtis said did not agree with the facts.

"The last year of the Underwood market our exports amounted in round numbers to $3,000,000,000. Our exports for the year ending June 30, 1929, under the 1922 act amounted to $5,000,000,000," said the vice president. Imports, he said, increased proportionately while revenues produced increased from $356,000,000 in 1922 to $600,000,000 in 1929.

"So you see," said the vice president, "the governor is mistaken about the effect of the McCumber act on our foreign trade." Farm leaders generally, he declared, approved the Fordney-McCumber rates on agricultural products.

COUNTY CITRUS MEN IN FAVOR OF PRORATING

to join in the prorata plan. Crill said not a single member asked refused to sign the petition.

"The orange industry and Orange county faces a crisis," Smale declared. "It's a crime heads of sales organizations don't get together. I don't see how growers will exist if they do not."

Earley replied that although orange growers are getting little for their fruit, they are getting more than any other growers who raise crops on the soil.

Sparks flew several times during the meeting, and the growers voiced their approval or disapproval of any suggestion without restraint.

Growers at the meeting expressed the opinion that there is no time left this season to start a new plan in operation because of the time it would consume to get the approval of the various organizations and growers.

Earley told the growers that the M. O. D. growers did not approve of the prorata plan, and declared that with the exception of the Garden Grove house, all boards of directors of M. O. D. houses were against the plan.

Crill took time to explain the prorata plan as outlined by the prorata committee, and which needs a 90 per cent control of the valencia oranges grown in the state to make it effective. The percentage would be obtained if the M. O. D. entered the agreement. Crill declared there was nothing mysterious about the prorata plan, declaring that it takes no more authority to place it in operation than now exists in the various houses.

T. O. Cook, secretary of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, was present at the meeting, and emphasized the fact that the organization had signed the prorata agreement and was behind it 100 per cent and was willing to get together with any other sales organization to put such a plan into immediate effect. He declared that proper control of the fruit shipments would bring money into the pockets of the growers.

Crill declared that the prorata agreement eliminated low grade fruit with two agreements, one for packed fruit and another for loose fruit.

R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Farm Bureau, declared that the prorata committee had never had an opportunity to check up on the alleged violations of the agreement, because it was in effect for such a short time before certain organizations announced their withdrawal."

The large group of growers heartily applauded an M. O. D. grower who declared that he was a member of the M. O. D. and was in favor of the prorata scheme. He questioned the authority of Earley in declaring that the M. O. D. growers were against the plan.

The crux of the whole matter, Crill declared, was not so much the plan but the willingness to cooperate with a plan by the marketing organizations.

Allen Break declared that naval oranges as well as valencias should have been taken into consideration in the prorata scheme.

According to many of those present, the meeting last night settled at least one thing—that orange growers want some kind of a prorata plan and want it put into effect immediately.

Smale pointed out that the market had been higher during the four weeks the original prorata plan was in operation.

Farm Bureau executives declared that the main object was to get the prorata agreement into effect during the current season so all the "kinks" could be ironed out for the successful operation of the scheme next season.

Growers discussed "pro and con" the advantages and disadvantages of elimination of certain grades of fruit to bolster up the market on the better grades.

of the neutrals not only expressed a willingness to suspend hostilities but suggested the complete military evacuation most of the Chaco.

The Paraguayan note couched in clear terms, said Paraguay was willing to cease hostilities on condition that the day for suspension be fixed by the neutrals in advance and agreed to by both belligerents and that sufficient time be given to permit the neutrals to reach remnant Paraguayan outposts and regiments in the war zone.

For geographical reasons, the Paraguayan government also held that the 20 kilometer neutral zone was impractical.

BEACH DENTIST URGES SUPPORT DENTAL CLINIC

Dr. D. R. Hoffman, Laguna Beach dentist, last night at the meeting of the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce, of which he is a director, made a talk in which he declared that Orange county is the only one in Southern California that has no dental hygiene program. He declared that the dentists of the county would be willing to do their share, if a dental clinic were established, and that the program could be put through without cost to the taxpayers.

Dr. Hoffman declared that dentists of the county had received no encouragement from the board of supervisors on the dental clinic proposal. No offer of help had come from the county school authorities, he declared.

Last year, according to Dr. Hoffman, he and Dr. E. Earl Reppel examined more than 300 pupils in the Laguna Beach grammar school and found more than a thousand cavities in their teeth. The Laguna clinic was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, which organization has backed the dental hygiene program in Laguna Beach, but Dr. Hoffman declared it had failed of its object through lack of co-operation on the part of the parents. The dentists were willing to do the work at cost. In some few cases the P. T. A. was able to help children but lacked funds for carrying out the program completely.

Education of parents is an essential to a successful dental hygiene program, Dr. Hoffman declared.

The chamber directors voted moral support to Dr. Hoffman's program.

INSTALLATION CONDUCTED BY LEGION GROUP

New officers of the American Legion auxiliary of Tustin were installed and new members initiated in the K. of P. hall last night. Those inducted into office were:

Those initiated into the membership were Mrs. Esther Eaton, Mrs. Mamie Flud, Mrs. Betty McGhee and Mrs. Naomi McKee. The hall was beautifully decorated with baskets of yellow daisies and ferns and the Tustin auxiliary drill team in new yellow uniforms assisted with the installation ceremonies.

Special guests were Mrs. Fannie Reeves, of Santa Ana, Orange county council president; Mrs. Florence Smith, of Anaheim, 21st district president; Mrs. Beulah Kern, of Anaheim, 21st district co-operative sales chairman, and numerous other guests from Santa Ana, Anaheim and Tustin.

Following the meeting, the auxiliary and guests were joined by Legion members and were served watermelon by the hospitality committee in the dining room.

Many plans are being made by the auxiliary for a busy year, the first activity to be a jam and jelly drive on September 23 and 24. This is to be held for the benefit of the veterans in the hospitals and for the community welfare shelf. If any one wishes to donate to this cause, they are asked to leave their contributions with the Phil Brooks cleaning establishment on East Main street, Tustin.

BONUS

The word has gone up to the new American Legion commander that the cash bonus can be put over in the December session of Congress.

The only question is whether the commander wants to go after it actively.

The house is all set. A two-thirds majority can be obtained there without much work. There are about a dozen in the senate who can be subjected to great pressure.

If they decide to go through with it the proposition will be taken out of the hands of men like Congressman Patman. Currency issuance schemes will be thrown out the window. The bill will be based on a bond issue.

They claim a two billion dollar bond issue is not as fantastic an idea as Wall street would have you believe.

There is some doubt whether the Legion will want to go after the bonus very actively despite its resolution.

The best Democratic sources say Roosevelt is going to join Hoover soon in opposing the cash bonus. Republicans now are planning to put the Democratic nominee on the spot. They hope to force something out of him before the end of his western swing.

Al Smith is helping their cause along.

The present state of the treasury makes it hard to defend a pro-bonus stand.

B. E. F.

Mutual personal dislikes lay behind the tiff between President Hoover and Police Chief Glassford over the B. E. F.

It started during the B. E. F. occupation of Washington. Glassford had his own ideas about handling the visitors. He followed a policy of friendly resistance to their whims. The President thought he ought to be stronger. Several confidential White House suggestions to that effect were disregarded by Glassford. Finally the White House hinted to his superiors he might well be removed.

On the day of the big rumpus Glassford declined to follow the administration demand for ousting the vets until he had written orders.

For some time it has been whispered around that Glassford was being eased out. He knew about it and was biding his time to strike back. It came when Attorney General Mitchell tried to influence the American Legion convention with a report on the B. E. F.

Ordinarily when Glassford has any statement to make he issues it verbally to newspapermen. This one he mimeographed after careful preparation. Two police took it around to every newspaper office in town. He slugged it "Hold for Release in Morning newspapers" i true publicity style.

Reports that politics had anything to do with it were absolutely unfounded.

Glassford is a former newspaperman. He knows and likes his publicity. He did not intend to wait until this was all over and find himself kicked out without presenting his side of the story. He struck while the iron was hot.

Mitchell's report was in reality the President's doing. A secret White House investigation has been looking for material to justify the administration's strong tactics.

The Justice department and Secret Service had more than 25 men planted in the bonus army during the entire time it was here. They were all veterans who joined the bonusers, making constant reports as to what was going on inside.

Attorney General Mitchell and War Secretary Hurley are grievously in error when they say the army did NOT fire the bonus camp. They were not there and did not see it. They were evidently misinformed by underlings.

There are several pictures and at least a thousand witnesses to prove the contrary is true.

NOTES

When Publisher William Randolph Hearst heard about the Mitchell report he got so mad he telephoned across the country several times urging his men to go out and discredit the document.

Before they could do it Glassford stepped in on his own.

There appeared to be some ground for belief that the local Hearst organization encouraged Glassford to take the step.

He did not need that encouragement.

The presidential politician secretary Walter Newton is in Minnesota on more than a vacation.

The president took that opportunity to use the vacation for a political mission.

Inside Republican reports from one good source indicate the state might go 100,000 for Roosevelt to-day.

PRORATA PLAN FATE WILL BE LEARNED SOON

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

McKee now knows he has small chance for official Tammany support in an election this fall. That is why he has moved to postpone the voting until the regular time in 1933. He would then have opportunity to build up a public following that Tammany cannot ignore.

One angle of the McKee drive for better civic conditions may have been interesting repercussions. Civic leaders agree that the slot machine racket should be stamped out and are with the mayor in his campaign against them but there are political influences of considerable weight on the other side of the picture.

The firing of Commissioner of Markets Dwyer is spectacular and politically irrelevant. Dwyer is a Tammany man but in no sense a big shot. No one is likely to battle for him very strenuously. Commissioner of Sanitation Schroeder—Walker's personal friend and doctor—would be a horse of another color.

There are still a flock of doubting Thomases—especially in the newspaper fraternity—who are not convinced that McKee is sincere in his moves for efficiency. Probably so. Popular response to his policies has been such that their continuance offers his best chance of re-election.

MAYORALTY

AN election is held this fall McKee's candidate on behalf of Brooklyn democracy is likely to be Judge Johnson. Johnson is a political nonentity at present but his record is good and he could be built up into a "clean government" candidate.

DEBTS

The Committee for Consideration of International Debts headed by Alfred Sloan is pretty much of a packed jury. Nicholas Murray Butler has been preaching revision for a long time. Alfred E. Smith, D. W. Robertson and C. C. Leely have publicly championed a specific plan to build up foreign trade through revision and barter. Sloan himself represents an industry which is badly in need of a revival in exports.

The real object of the committee is to conduct a campaign of public education in favor of revision by turning the debts into American taxes in exchange for foreign trade. Its political implications favor Hoover but it will function just as well if Roosevelt is elected.

GERMANY

Albert Wiggins' announcement that there will be no meeting of Germany's creditors on October 1st is publicly interpreted as an expression of greater confidence in the German situation. Actually it is an expression of extreme uncertainty. New York bankers are worried about German political complications and wish to retain as free a hand as possible in dealing with eventualities.

It is true that some banks have exchanged short term obligations for ten year 6 per cent guaranteed by German banks—but this is not due to assurance of the future. The short term stuff cannot be collected for a long time so the banks figure they might as well have at least a higher book rate of interest to show for their advances.

BANKS

Local bankers are pleased at the last two member bank reports showing an increase in loans and investments. They state that normal credit expansion has finally begun. Improvement so far has been confined to the New York district but that it where it would logically start.

VYE TO MAKE INDEPENDENT SENATE RACE

Announcement was made today by J. A. Vye, of Fullerton, that he would run for the state assembly as an independent candidate. Duly nominated candidates selected at the August primary election are Sen. N. T. Edwards, of Orange, Republican, and D. G. Wettlin, of Orange, Democrat. Vye's statement which was addressed "To the People of Orange County," follows:

"Believing that the controlling forces governing Orange county are against the county's good, and that no permanent economic relief can come without a change, I am an independent candidate for the State Senate at the election November 3. My name will not appear on the printed ballot. To elect me, it must be written in by you. This can easily be done and you will do it, when once aroused to the gravity of the situation.

"Our troubles are seldom caused by the national administration, though the politicians claim they are. The great national organization is made up of countless local units. If these are right, the great organization is right. Be not deceived.

"We cannot have good county government without having legislators who are in human touch with the people of the county.

Tells Platform
"A change in our senatorship is imperative for economic relief. I am running as an independent candidate for this office. I stand for men; not for dollars. I stand for good government, and for the rights of all—beginning with the wage earner and the farmer. I stand for the upbuilding of the homes of the masses. I stand against pensions for public employees. I strongly oppose special privileges for the moneyed interests. I stand for retaining

SAYS WIFE REFUSED TO MAKE A HOME

Refusal of his wife to relinquish a position she is holding in Los Angeles and make a home for him in Fullerton where he is employed, is one of the causes for a divorce action filed in superior court by Horace F. Berry against his wife, Mrs. Clara G. Berry.

In his complaint Berry said that he and his wife were married October 20, 1928, in Yuma, Ariz., and separated August 5, last. In a property settlement prior to their separation all community property, consisting of an automobile and household furniture valued at $1000 was turned over to Mrs. Berry.

Berry alleged in his complaint that his wife refused to quit work after they were married and gave as her reason that he did not earn sufficient money to enable them to go to the places and do the things that she enjoyed. When his firm transferred him to Fullerton she refused to accompany him and make a home, the husband alleged.

Troy L. Colboch, holder of the world's record for consecutive jumps, will make an exhibition jump at the Santa Ana Airway field on West First street at 4:30 p. m. Sunday. He expects to use two chutes on the jump, which is considered dangerous as the second might foul the first. A new Kinner airplane will be at the field Sunday noon.

ORANGE COUNTY'S FAIR EXHIBIT

Orange county's attractive entry among the many elaborate feature displays at Los Angeles County Fair which opened yesterday in Pomona and continues through Sunday, September 25, is a replica of the famous old San Juan Capistrano mission. The adobe bricks showing through the broken plaster of the walls, are made of oranges and about the patio there are the fruits and other products of this county. Commanding an excellent position in the great agricultural building the entry is a center of interest and admiration.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR ACTIVITIES OF HI-Y CLUBS

Plans for HI-Y activities were furthered at a meeting last night at the Y.M.C.A. when representatives of several churches came together to consider the fall program.

As the opening rally, Monday evening, September 26, has been set for a dinner meeting of all the HI-Y clubs in Santa Ana and vicinity. Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Henderson has been secured as the speaker for this event. He will discuss the topic which the HI-Y clubs will study during the month of October which is "Problems of School Life." An attractive program of music and entertainment will be featured, with complete outline of organization plans for the season.

According to Secretary D. H. Tibbals, the plan for this year is to have a HI-Y club in every church with enough students to make up a group, and one general HI-Y club to center in the Y. M. C. A. for boys not otherwise affiliated. These clubs are to meet as church groups except on the fourth Monday evening of each month, when they will assemble for a general inspirational meeting with a dinner at the Y. M. C. A. followed by a program. At each of these monthly joint meetings, the study topic for the coming month will be presented by an able speaker.

The discussion topics which have been selected are: October—"School Problems"; November—"Citizenship"; December—"A Young Man's Religion"; January—"Life Investment"; February—"Health Problems"; March—"Social Relationships"; April—"Racial Relationships"; May—"International Understanding."

Make Appeal For Benefit Of Children

An appeal for assistance in carrying on its work of rehabilitation is made this week by the Crippled Children's Relief association of Orange county, the appeal being the first made in the past two years.

Through its president, Earl S. Morrow, 3000 letters have been written to Orange county residents asking for aid. No specified amount has been asked, just a donation, so that the work which has proved so successful during the past number of years can continue.

Disbursements during the past two years has amounted to $1200 which covered transportation of patients from homes and health camps to hospital clinics, treatments in homes, expenses for home work for pupils under the care of a traveling teacher and the purchases of braces, repairs and special built shoes.

Two teachers are employed by the county to instruct 40 crippled children, some at their homes and some in the hospital. The association pays for transportation and supplies for the special cases who must be taken to the clinic for treatments.

All money received in the drive will be spent for supplies, medicines, bandages and in the actual treatment of cases by the nurse after a thorough examination has determined the worthiness of the case.

No money is paid to the officers or directors of the organization. The Crippled Children's Relief association is not a part of the Community Chest.

Officers of the organization are: Earl S. Morrow, president; Mrs. Oscar H. Renner, Anaheim, vice president; Miss E. Kate Res. Anaheim, treasurer, and Miss Grace W. Bailey, Anaheim, secretary.

The directors are: Mrs. Thomas McFadden, Placentia; Mrs. George S. Briggs, Santa Ana; William T. Brown, Fullerton; Oliver A. Haler, Santa Ana; Mrs. Good Adams, Santa Ana; Mrs. E. D. White, Santa Ana; Mrs. Frank Sedel, Santa Ana; Louis Hoskins, Santa Ana; Dr. John Ball, Santa Ana; Dr. G. W. Olson, Fullerton and Mrs. R. C. Patton, Orange.

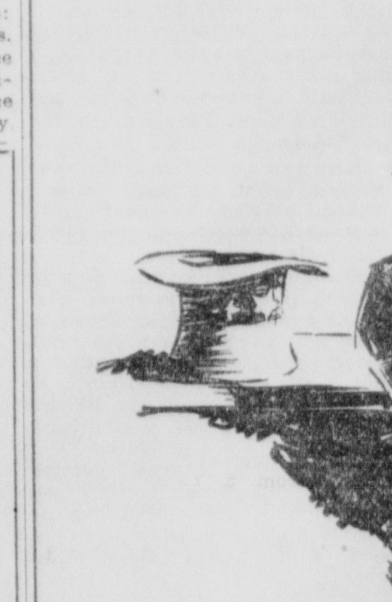

"CROWD ROARS" AT WALKER'S SUNDAY

James Cagney and Joan Blondell are reunited again for the first time since their appearance in "Blonde Crazy" in the starring roles of "The Crowd Roars," Warner Bros. thrilling special production coming to Walker's State theater tomorrow.

Appearing in support of Cagney and Blondell is a large cast including Ann Dvorak, Eric Linden, Frank McHugh, Guy Kibbee and a score of racing drivers, among them the Indianapolis Speedway champions Billy Arnold and Lou Schneider. Other famous racers are Fred Frame, Leo Nomis, Ralph Hepburn, Harry Hartz, Spider Matlock and Wilbur Shaw. The drivers acted also as technical advisors on "The Crowd Roars," assisting director and author Howard Hawks in securing accurate race-track scenes. Hawks' best-known previous works are "The Dawn Patrol" and "Scarface."

Guard Food From Winter Spoilage!

Every day—in Southern California, according to national statistics—perishable food needs refrigeration.

Even in winter, there is some period during every day when food will begin to spoil unless it is in a refrigerator.

The most economical of all refrigeration is provided by Electrolux. At a cost of only three to four cents a day it provides a temperature well below 50°—the degree of heat at which food begins to spoil.

Get your natural gas refrigerator NOW. You will need it every day in the year.

Easy terms to fit your budget and a liberal allowance for your old refrigerator.

BOOKS and SLIDES SOMERVILLE LEADS GOODMAN AT 18TH Motorbike Stars Vie For Gold Cup Tonight

IT DIDN'T DO ANY GOOD

For several years Walter Johnson's annual spring song has been "Give me a 20-game pitcher and we can win the pennant."

It was Walter's reiterated viewpoint that the Senators were the best-balanced team in the league. This year the hitting strength was increased by the trade that brought Reynolds to the outfield. And this year Walter had not only one 20-game pitcher but a couple of them, Crowder and Weaver.

AN EXTRA FEATURE

One of the added attractions of the world series this year will be the play of Woodrow English of the Cubs. Woody had several bad moments in the 1929 world series with the A's. He went to bat 21 times and hit .190. His fielding was not so hot, either. His two costly fumbles in the ninth inning of the first game paved the way for the runs that beat the Cubs finally by a score of 3 to 1.

On his first boot, a double play was possible and had he accepted the second chance the side would have been retired runless, which would have sent the game into extra innings and might have changed the nature of the entire series. English also had errors in the second and third games, but they didn't mean so much.

They say the young man has a flair for "gettin' even." This may be the year of English's great revenge.

THE PRICES IN CHICAGO

Another interesting feature of the world series games scheduled in Chicago is the seating arrangements. Reserved box seats are priced at $6.60 each, which includes the 10 per cent tax. Reserved grandstand perches are $5.50. Bleacher seats, which are not available until the day of the game, retail at $1.10.

But here is where the rub comes in. If you want a box seat for the first game in Chicago, you must remit to the Cub cage the amount of $19.80. The reason is that tickets are sold only in sets of three. Two box seats for the three games mean that you must write a check for $59.40.

Thus the young Chicagoan who wants to take his best girl to see the Cubs in the world series will find it necessary to blank down the price of two snappy suits or clothes.

That not only seems like a lot of sugar these sour days, but it is.

Santa Ana's winter baseball season starts Sunday at the Santa Ana Airways with the Pacific Electric Trailmen, crack travel team of Los Angeles, facing the Hancock Oilers.

Work on the new park was being completed today. The sandy soil packs well and will be available immediately after a rain, which gives it a decided advantage over the old park at the foot of South Main street. The diamond is located behind the main hangar and there is plenty of parking space.

On account of so many fans being out of work, no admission charge will be made at the gate, but a collection will be taken instead, and that money will be paid toward the team support the team enough to continue playing such teams as the Trailmen. Under association rules, the home team must pay the visiting club's traveling expenses, amounting to $3 a head, figuring 12 men.

The grandstand and bleachers are situated so as to afford a good view of the landing field and all the regular Sunday afternoon aerial activities can be watched closely. There will be some special performances tomorrow.

The P.E. lineup: Manicuso, cf; Yeager, lf; La Rue, 2b; Galloway, 2b; Johnson, as; Henry, 3b; Garfison, c; Drysdale, p; Spencer, p. Hancock Oilers: Hill or Griffith, 2b; Thiers, ss; Sweet, cf; 2b; Enley or Gurner, lf; Hatfield, rf; J. Koral, 2b; B. Koral, 1b; Maldonado, c and Joe Edwin, p.

ARIZMENDI UPSETS PAUL, N. B. A. KING

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Baby Arizmendi of Mexico provided an upset last night by winning an easy 10-round decision over Tommy Paul of Buffalo, N. Y., recognized by the United States National Boxing association as featherweight champion of the world. Paul's title was not at stake.

2-MAN TEAMS FEATURE SPEED CARD AT BOWL

A team of Orange county space demolishers, Ted King and Dick Springston, both of Santa Ana, is favored to repulse all outside invasion tonight in the Gold Cup race at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl.

These two boys, both huskies of the handieler sport, pulled a big surprise by winning the team competition Thursday night at White Sox park in Los Angeles.

Springston was first to ride and was away like a shot to come home just a few feet behind Ray Grant. A close third was Cordy Milne. The three riders touched their mechanics who in turn pushed away their partners. Ted King, partner of Springston, was away like a flash behind Miny Wain. Grant's partner, then to the amazement of everyone, King outdied Wain and, at the end of three laps nosed him out at the finish in what appeared to be almost a dead heat. King won by the proverbial eyelash.

Among those going postward here will be the Milne brothers, Jack and Cordy. The "Flying Frenchman" from Pasadena, Wilbur Laneroux is among those entered while the flaming-haired "Red" Murch has again cast his goggles in the ring after being absent three weeks.

"Mutt" Kelly, the Portland pilot, still will be on the sidelines as a result of an army injury, as is "Slim" Myers, but in their places will be such pilots as "Big Bo" Leman and Bob Keller, the "Flying Mailman" of Los Angeles.

Altogether a field of 45 riders is enrolled, the outstanding man, of course, being Ray Grant. Fort-lord's "rough rider" The spectacular Grant appears almost unbeatable at the Bowl and he is just about as formidable at other tracks in the Southland. He brookside turns of tracks in his own inimitable style, leaning at a far more dangerous angle than any other pilot. And instead of a spasmodic series of spurts on a track, Grant's motor bursts forth a steady stream of speed.

There will be the usual number of dash events tonight, handicap and scratch races, and then, as the piece de resistance will come the Gold Cup team race, the most exciting event conceived for motorbike race tracks.

The program begins at 8:15.

SAINTS PREPARE TO OPEN 1932 SCHEDULE

Santa Ana Hi had more than two full weeks of hard football practice behind it today, and begins Monday the task of preparing for its first game of the new season—with Orange Hi here next Friday or Saturday.

There is still a bit of uncertainty about the date. Officials may yield to popular request and play the affair Friday because on Saturday Southern California opens its schedule against Utah at the Coliseum, an inter-sectional game of considerable interest. A definite decision is expected Monday.

Santa Ana goes to Long Beach Tuesday for an informal scrimmage with Woodrow Wilson.

The Saint third and fourth strings drilled against Tustin here yesterday and got something of the worst of the scrimmage with Bill Cole's Farmer regulars. The local regulars had an inter-squad scrimmage.

S. A. NETTERS PLAY AT POMONA SUNDAY

Repaying a visit here several weeks ago, nine Santa Ana Tennis club representatives travel to Pomona tomorrow for an inter-city tournament, beginning at 1 p.m.

Randolph Bell, Lewis Wetherell, John Cress, Arno Finster, Don Park and Kenneth Ranney will play singles in that order. Wetherell and Finster, Bell and Cress, and Park and Ranney compose the doubles combinations. The Misses May Maag, Marjorie Lau-derbach and Helen Bower will play women's singles.

RIVERSIDE 4-2 VICTORY EVENS TITLE PLAYOFF

Anaheim and Riverside go back to Colton Monday in a one-to-one game deadlock for the Southern California night baseball championship, Riverside having squared the series by defeating the Valencias, 4-2, at Anaheim last night.

The inlanders captured a loose, free-hitting decision when nervous "Puzz" Errington lost effectiveness in the eighth inning. Riverside made two runs before he regained his equilibrium, breaking a 2-2 tie that had existed since the fourth round.

Ralph Unland, batting first, a wild pitch scored Unland before a rally with an infield single to Higgins. Hunter expired, bunting foul a third strike, but Baker walked and Watson singled off Errington's pitching hand, loading the bases. A wild pitch scored Unland before Burgess forced Baker at home, McNabb to Lemon. Reed's single tallied Watson.

Riverside gained an early advantage in the first inning when Unland singled to short and Watson lifted a home run over Moody in right field.

Anaheim got these back in the fourth in an identical manner. Higgins singled. Moody forced him at second and Lemon homed to right. Anaheim wasted opportunities to score in the seventh and eighth. In the seventh, Errington singled but McNabb rapped into a lightning double killing. Reed to Watson. Bell singled infield, and Schrott singled to center. Bell racing to third but being thrown out attempting to score when Bevington's throw-in rolled a few feet away from Hunter.

The Valencias put Higgins on third and Schuchardt on first with none down in the eighth but Moody and Lemon popped up and Schuchardt was flagged stealing.

CHARLEY GRIMM HAS A PAST! Cub Manager Once Clowned Away Flag For Pirates BUT NOW HE'S ALL BUSINESS

By FRANK G. MENKE (I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—It surprises some folk no little to note that a fellow named Charlie Grimm is manager of a club that is going to do something or other in the world series of 1932.

The popular idea concerning a world series pilot is that he is a solemn-visaged guy, bedecked with a great number of years, and Mr. Grimm does not fit into any such picture at all.

In the yonder seasons, Mr. Grimm, together with Mr. Walter Maranville, was a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates which skipped into New York in the fading days of summer with a seven-game lead, and before the party escaped town it had, via visits to Gotham and Brooklyn, blown such a lead so effectively that some other club won the pennant.

None can place the thumb on the exact blokes who were responsible for this collapse of the Pirates, but it often has been whispered that the Acrobatic Mr. Maranville, who once was very fond of brew, home made or otherwise, joined up with Mr. Grimm in escapading.

Inasmuch as Mr. Maranville, in victory or defeat, thought that some sort of celebration should take place, regardless whether any girls were present, Mr. Maranville often teamed up with Mr. Grimm in hop-scotch, button, button, who's got the button? pillow fights and other old fashioned games which never landed the boys in jail, but did succeed in landing Mr. Maranville and Mr. Grimm on the ball field in giggling condition.

In the years since then Mr. Grimm, having divested himself of his Pirate regalia, and feeling it no longer incumbent upon him to be a reincarnated Captain Kidd, has shed his sallow ways, chuckles only in refined fashion, instead of exuding giggles, and has otherwise gone dignified.

All in all, Mr. Grimm has gone and got himself quite a bit of baseball religion. But this still does not make those who knew him in the sprightly years, believe that he could become anything quite so serious and sedate as a baseball manager.

Mr. Grimm is reported to be stringing along with that group. He can't believe it himself.

MOTORCYCLE RACERS INVITE RENDEZVOUS WITH DEATH

Charmed lives these motorcycle racers lead. Tumbling is the first art of "bike" riding.

For instance, Ray Grant, the outstanding rider of regular season night performances here, had a graceful brush with death two weeks ago. He was turning into the homestretch at the Bowl when a machine suddenly stalled in front of him. Too late, Grant saw the prostrate driver. Grant smashed into the machine, broadside, did a swan dive into the air, was unscratched despite a three-point landing. Miraculously, the other pilot escaped too.

Publicly Man Norman Hartford says that was nothing at all. He vividly recalled how Dick Springston, traveling at a furious clip at Navy field, San Diego, had his machine buckle and roll, pinning Springston to the ground. Nobody was hurt.

"At White Sox park in Los Angeles," continues Hartford, "Cordy Milne crashed into a fence running wide open when he was unable to negotiate a turn. He picked himself off the ground, twisted his machine into shape, entered the next race, of smashup that involved Ray Grant at the Bowl brought grief to Jack Milne at White Sox park last week. Milne ran into "Red" Murch's stalled bike on a turn and the flaming-haired Murch looked like a full-grown comet hurtling through space. But neither he nor Milne allowed a little tangle like that to force him out of remaining races."

Motorcycle skippers operate now on a regular circuit. Four "association" tracks are in business—Santa Ana, Los Angeles, San Diego and Long Beach.

A form-fitting tuxedo adorning his husky form, "Jumpin' Joe" Savoldi, former Notre Dame backfield star, and of late a wrestler in the professional circus, mingled with society folk in Hollywood at a recent movie premiere. Joe is shown as he appeared in full regalia.

SAN DIEGO HI LOSES WEIGHT TO GAIN SPEED

(This is the second of a series of articles reviewing the prospects of Coast Preparatory league football teams. Today's installment considers San Diego Hi.—Sport editor's note.)

Something new and different, for a San Diego Hi grid team, will be introduced to the Coast league prep world this year. The Hiller school, known for its brawn and power, will feature speed. The boys will put it into high, instead of slow, methodical yard-by-yard drives.

The Coast league, assuredly, will look with keen interest to San Diego's 1932 creation. Coach Hobbs Adams admits optimism in spite of the odds against him.

Eight lettermen, three of them members of the relay team that carried San Diego into second place in the Southern California half-mile baton-passing finals, were welcomed back by Coach Adams last week. All three are backs, which adds insult to injury for Coast league rivals.

Unquestionably San Diego will be one of the speediest teams in the Southland. The lettermen, of track fame, are Leonard Murray and "Mushy" Pollock, quarterbacks, and Dave Arnett, halfback. Other "S" winners returning are Jim Dakis, half; "Jazz" Morris, end; Walter Beerle, Ed Knapp and Bob Sanders, tackles.

Dave Wynne, triple-threat quarter, is the only outstanding back lost by Adams via graduation. But transfers and reserves from last year will fill in efficiently.

Don Callison, who broke his shoulder in an early game last year, is expected to prove the sparkplug of the 1932 Hiller crew. He will handle a backfield berth. Charles Hake, a sophomore from Honolulu, has already caught the eye of Adams, and will bear watch this year . . . and others.

Oliver Day and Leonard Kary are other veteran backs. San Diego's backfield probably will line up with Murray and Pollock at the halves with Callison alternating; Morris, transposed from an end, at fullback; and Arnett at quarter. Arnett may give way to Day or Wary. However, as an old shoulder injury may prove a handicap.

ALEXANDER PASSES FOX IN BAT RACE

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Dale Alexander of the Boston Red Sox has outted Jimmy Fox of the Philadelphia Athletics from the batting leadership of the American league, a position which Fox held for virtually the entire season.

Figures released today, including games played Thursday, show that Alexander has an average of .363, while Fox has dropped to runner-up position with .359. "Lefty" O'Doul of the Brooklyn Dodgers continues to head the National league batters with a mark of .370.

When you read this fall of Al DeLuca's sensational broken field running in football for Duquesne university, consider that perhaps Al got that way plowing corn, milking cows, repairing fences and painting the barns on the DeLuca farm in Blairsville, Pa. He is shown above at the "wheel" of his plow.

Ask Permit For Dog Track At Seal Beach

SEAL BEACH, Sept. 17.—An application for a permit to build a $75,000 dog racing plant here was tendered the city council last night by the Gold Coast Kennel club. The communication, from James W. Byrnes, representing the group, stated that plans would be made to lease about 20 acres of land, and work on the plant would begin immediately, after the adoption of an ordinance regulating the sport.

The communication was filed and a committee appointed to investigate the financial status of the organization. The land sought by the Kennel club comprises the triangle formed by the state highway, Bay boulevard and Santa Ana highway on the Hellman estate north of the business section.

REPORT FISHING AT BEACHES EXCELLENT

Fishing is extraordinarily good along the Orange county coastline at this time, according to reports today from Newport Beach where the season's first catch of white sea bass was landed yesterday. A total of 80 was hauled in on Luke Ozanne's boat. Live bait is prevalent, traveling up the coast, and old fishermen say this is a sure sign of good fishing for a month or more.

35-FOOT PUTT MAKES CANADA CHAMP ONE UP

BALTIMORE COUNTRY CLUB, Md., Sept. 17.—(UP)—Ross Somerville, former Canadian champion, was one up over Johnny Goodman of Omaha, Neb., today at the end of the first 18 holes of their 36-hole final match for the U. S. Amateur championship.

Playing on the Five Farms course of the Baltimore Country club, the Canadian, who has four times held the dominion title, gained his advantage of one hole by sinking a putt of 35 feet on the final green.

Goodman and Somerville had drives of 200 yards. Goodman's second was in a trap to the left of the green. Somerville was 3 feet past the pin. Somerville ran down his putt for a birdie 3. Goodman made his shot from the trap but was 7 feet short.

DON AIR GAME IS IMPRESSIVE IN SCRIMMAGE

By PAUL WRIGHT

An impressive aerial attack, enabling its executors to complete six out of seven passes against first class opposition, will be used to great advantage by Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana junior college gridmen this fall, and if the Don reserves show improvement which they at present so badly need, it is unquestionably certain that Santa Ana will make a strong bid for the 1932 title.

Scrimmaging informally with Long Beach Jayas yesterday, the Don used a starting lineup that went surprisingly well on offense, and fair on defense, but when substitutions were made, Santa Ana became hopelessly confused against Coach Oak Smith's Vikings.

Injuries, always greatest in first workouts, exacted their customary toll. Long Beach appeared to go unscathed, but Lash, Williams, Hall and Wallace of the Dons suffered a broken nose, fractured rib, injured leg and a severe head jolt, respectively.

Divide Offensive Periods. The teams divided their offensive practice, alternated on offense and defense during two 20-minute periods. Long Beach took its offensive drill first, worked rather well during the 10 minutes allotted. Then Santa Ana took the ball, made considerable progress with a backfield combination of Welty, quarter; Captain Jim Hall and Bell, halfbacks; and Smith, full; and a line with Lash and Melsinger at end, Heffron and Conkey at tackle, Williams and

KAYE DON SECRETLY MARRIED TO HEIRESS

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(UP)—Kaye Don, who came to America to win the world's speedboat championship and lost, is en route home after winning as his secret bride a Connecticut heiress, the former Eileen Martin, 21. They were married in Greenwich Friday.

He sailed last night on the Olympic. She remained behind to follow on the Majestic next week, she said.

His departure followed 24 hours of rumors, announcements of an engagement, and denials by the parents of the young heiress. Then last night the bride admitted they were married.

"Of course we are. But we wanted to keep it secret. We plan to meet in Paris and honeymoon at Lake Como."

Her father is a wealthy textile manufacturer. He had insisted that her fiancé was Kenneth Edward Don, an engineer, no relation to Kaye Don. Kaye listed his name on the application for a marriage license as K. Ernest Don.

TWO WILLS ON FILE INDICATE COURT BATTLE

Contest over the estate of Mrs. Ella Lillian Cassells, 62-year-old Huntington Beach widow who died September 3, last in Los Angeles, loomed with the filing Thursday of a second will, prepared a short time prior to her death. The second instrument was filed with a petition for probate by Henry M. Brooks, friend of Mrs. Cassells, and turns all property over to him to be administered by him after five years.

The first will was filed with a petition for probate and letters of administration by Zephyr O. Benson, of Los Angeles, on September 13. It was dated January 12, 1932, and nominated the Security First National bank of Los Angeles and executor. The petition accompanying the will declared that the bank had renounced its rights as executor.

The first instrument filed for probate declared that the estate of Mrs. Cassells would not exceed $10,000 and had an annual income of $200. In the second instrument the value of the estate was placed at not more than $5000 with an annual income of $500.

The estate consists of two small houses, according to the first will, furnishings and household goods.

Under the first will it was directed that $71 be paid Henry Brooks in payment of a loan made by him in 1906. John Venable, a friend living in St. Joseph, Mo., was willed $100 and $100 each was left to Mary Allen, Winifred Allen, William Faulkner and Harold Faulkner, all of Los Angeles, and Glenn Brooks, son of Henry Brooks.

It was directed that C. G. Martin of Chicago, receive $500 in payment of a debt. Two thousand dollars was given to the Los Angeles office of the Eastern Star and $1000 to the St. Phillips Protestant Episcopal church, also in Los Angeles. The residue of the estate went to Zephyr Benson.

All provisions of the first will were omitted from the second instrument dated August 11, last, and filed yesterday which directed that in the event Henry Brooks cared for and protected her interests until her death all personal effects and property should go to him.

It directed that all bills, including city, state and Zephyr Benson, and others, be settled from specified property providing all outside papers of importance, tax receipts and storage checks be turned into the estate by persons holding them.

Payment in full of Miss Korletta Marsh, nurse, who attended Mrs. Cassells, was ordered and it was directed that payment should come from certain property or from finances supplied by Brooks.

The Huntington Beach branch, Security First National bank, was directed to take charge of and control all properties in the beach city for a period of five years at the end of which the property is to be turned over to Brooks. During the time the bank controls the property, rentals and all excess finances are to be turned over to Brooks. Houses on other property at the beach is to be opened to Brooks to use as his home. All persons claiming relationship to Mrs. Cassells are to receive $1 each as she stated "I have no relatives."

A final clause in the second will provided "should I survive and be able to handle my own affairs I shall set this will aside until necessary and keep charge of and handle my effects and property as now."

LOWER COSTS FOR CALAVO GROWERS

The lowest operating cost per unit ever attained in the avocado growers' exchange, and its highest crop control also in history, both for next season, is unusually good news for some 3000 growers in the Calavo Growers' association, announces Carl V. Newman, local leader for the co-operative, today. Besides a 23 per cent handling cost per unit reduction, despite the large crop, since last year, next season's budget has already lost over $40,000 to date by "trimmings", including $20,000 in salary cuts. This assures the growers' association, it is believed, of having an unquestioned cost-equality advantage next season over any competitive and non-constructive shipper.

Pilot and Bride Live At Glendale

Married in Yuma, Ariz., more than a week ago Eddie Martin, owner of the Martin airport here and pilot for the American Airways, on the Los Angeles-El Paso route, and the former Peggy Hall, are making their home in Glendale.

Martin and his bride flew to Yuma last week and were married by Justice of the Peace Earl A. Freeman. Martin has been identified with aviation affairs in Santa Ana for many years and has for some time been chairman of the Aviation committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. Several months ago he turned over operation of the local airport to his brother Floyd Martin and accepted a post as pilot with the American Airways.

Martin will make his home in Glendale and expects to divide his time when not on duty as pilot, between that city and Santa Ana where he retains his interests in the local airport.

"The Hearts of the Saints Are Refreshed by Thee, Brother."

Text: Philemon—Part of Verse 7.

Paul, writing from Rome to Philemon, expresses his delight, his thanksgiving, at the spiritual progress made by Philemon. Paul appreciated good news when he heard it. He appreciated a good man when he found one. There was much news which was discouraging, and many men who were disappointing. Discouragement and disappointment were the rule in Paul's efforts to found Christian churches. There was opposition, persecution, ridicule, indifference, everything to discourage and dishearten him. For one man who stood true, there were ten to oppose him. His career as a preacher of Christianity was a perilous one. He was stoned, beaten, imprisoned, all but killed. Where he was not physically threatened he was jeered and ridiculed, or treated with cold indifference, or called a lunatic. There were many, many things to try Paul's heart, and discourage him to the point of despair. Then there came good news. Philemon was holding true. The little group, of which he was a member, in which he was a leader, was progressing in love and faith. Paul had heard, so he says, "of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all the saints," and then Paul goes on to say that this good news is refreshing, that his heart is refreshed and encouraged by the faith and spiritual dependability of Philemon.

Now and then in history there appear these refreshing personalities, men who are like a breath of mountain air, who are honest in the midst of dishonesty; faithful, when betrayal and dishonor are everywhere; strong, when cowards faint all around them; sincere, when insincerity is the rule and every man doubts his brother. Such men are found in all lines of endeavor. During the past century there was a time when the morbid, the gruesome, the sensual seemed to have popularity in European literature. Writers like Emile Zola, Eugene Sue and Guy de Maupassant in France, Thomas Hardy in England and Gogol in Russia were morbid and pessimistic. But to offset the influence of these apostles of the darker side of life were writers like Robert Louis Stevenson, men whose writings were like morning air, fresh and invigorating. Through the writings of Stevenson there is an optimism, a cheerfulness, a healthy confidence in life that is most refreshing. The heart of many a reader of good literature has been refreshed by the writings of Stevenson, after the reader had felt a mantle of gloom spread over the mind from reading some of the morbid writers.

The political situation in many of our large cities calls for the rise of some political Philemon to refresh the hearts of discouraged and disillusioned citizens. We who believe in honesty, justice and righteousness; we who love and believe in the simple, rugged principles which constitute our national ideals, have been shocked beyond measure at the exposures of dishonesty, graft, exploitation and crime in our large cities. What would Washington say! What would Lincoln say! We have often wished that Theodore Roosevelt could be the mayor of Chicago for a few weeks. We believe his influence and his actions would sweep through that city like a cleansing wind. Surely the heart of many a shocked and disappointed citizen would be refreshed by the rise of some statesmen and public officials with the rock-ribbed honesty, utter fearlessness and resistless power of action of a man like Theodore Roosevelt.

"The hearts of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother," so said Paul to Philemon. What is the effect upon others of their contact with us? Does our contact with men refresh or discourage them? Are we apostles of gloom or spreaders of optimism and hope? It is said that when Phillips Brooks walked down the streets of Boston that his very presence, his very smile, spread cheer and hope. Men sitting in despair on the curbstone looked up and took heart again at the sight of him. There was a reason for it, just as there was a reason for Philemon's radiant faith and spiritual success. Jesus said, "I am the vine, ye are the branches: he that abideth in Me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without Me ye can do nothing." Here is the secret, which is no secret at all; here is the explanation of the refreshing success of Philemon, of the radiant faith of a Phillips Brooks. The possession of this refreshing quality of the spirit is not the exclusive possession of the great saints of Christian history. It can be, it should be, the possession of every believer in Jesus Christ. Our faith in Him should make us the world's supreme optimists. The word gospel means "good news". As the heart of Paul was refreshed by the faith, the love, and the loyalty of Philemon, so may we not refresh the hearts of our brothers in the faith by showing forth an example of unwavering faith and invincible good will.
